We're opening
the doors on a healthier future.

It started by partnering with VCU Health and our shared vision to bring the best in care close to home. Now that vision is a reality. The new VCU Health Community Memorial Hospital is here and it's something we can all take pride in. Because it's not just for the community, it's by the community. We've been on this journey together from the start—dreaming, planning, and doing—and it's time to celebrate the healthier community we're building together.
